From the Director

Most of us are probably more familiar with the movie version of this classic musical. As great as it was, there are major differences between the stage version and the film.

One of the things we were eager to capture in this production was the hard edge that the film tended to lack. The racism, hatred and violence that permeate the play are, sadly, as contemporary as in the fifties. Against this sorry backdrop our two lovers, Tony and Maria, plan their future.

This is arguably one of the largest and most complex productions ever attempted at the school. It involves a large orchestra and cast. For safety reasons a Stage Fight Director has been employed for the fights.

We would never attempt such a show if we were not confident the talent was there to see the task through. You be the judge. We hope you enjoy West Side Story 2000.
